First ODINCARSA Training Course in Marine Information Management

Mazatlan, Mexico
29 September – 4 October 2002

Hosted by the Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnologia, U.N.A.M.
Abstract
The First ODINCARSA Training Course in Marine Information Management was held in Mazatlan, Mexico, kindly hosted by the ‘Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnologia, U.N.A.M.’. The Training Course was attended by 17 participants from 13 countries including Argentina, The Bahamas, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Jamaica, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Saint Lucia and Trinidad & Tobago. Resource persons included Mrs Jane Barnwell, Mrs. Amelia Chavez Comparán, Mrs. Guillermín Cosulich, Mrs. Linda Pikula, Mrs. Maria Clara Ramirez Jáuregui, Mrs. Pauline Simpson, Mr. Steve Watkins and Mr. Peter Pissierssen. The course included theoretical lectures on Information Management as well as discussions on an ODINCARSA marine information management workplan for 2002/2003. The course used the OceanTeacher system.

1. INTRODUCTION

The First ODINCARSA Training Course in Marine Information Management was held in Mazatlán, Mexico, kindly hosted by the ‘Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnología, U.N.A.M.’. The training course was attended by 17 participants from 13 countries including Argentina, The Bahamas, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Jamaica, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Saint Lucia and Trinidad & Tobago. Resource persons included Mrs. Jane Barnwell (Pacific Specialist, Thomas Hale Hamilton Library, Honolulu, Hawaii, United States of America), Mrs. Amelia Chavez Comparán (Head Librarian, Centro de Investigación Científica y Educación Superior de Ensenada, Mexico), Mrs. Guillermina Cosulich (Instituto Nacional de Investigación y Desarrollo Pesquero, Biblioteca y Servicio de Documentación INIDEP, Argentina), Mrs. Linda Pikula (NOAA Miami Regional Library, Miami, Florida, United States of America), Mrs. Maria Clara Ramírez Jáuregui (Biblioteca “Dra. Ma. Elena Caso Muñoz”, Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnología, UNAM, Mazatlán, Mexico), Mrs. Pauline Simpson (Head of Information Services, Southampton Oceanography Centre, Southampton, United Kingdom), Mr. Steve Watkins (Coordinator of Technology Development, CSU Monterey Bay Library, Seaside, California, United States of America) and Mr. Peter Pissierssens (Head, Ocean Services Section, Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission, Paris, France).

In order to identify participants, all ODINCARSA National Co-ordinators had been invited to nominate suitable experts from their institution with experience in library management, as available, who would, subsequent to the course, be responsible for the implementation of the agreed-upon work plan.

Despite this request it was noted that only Chile and Cuba had been able to send a marine librarian. Other participants included mainly data managers, public information officer or technicians. It was concluded that this was due to the absence of true marine libraries in those institutions. More details on the institution were subsequently obtained through the survey (see 2.)

2. INSTITUTIONAL SURVEY

In order to obtain detailed information on the level of development and capacity of each participant’s information centre/library a detailed survey form was distributed during the course. A copy of the original survey form is attached as Annex III. The results are provided below.

2.1 ARGENTINA

Name: Fabian Alejandro VETERE
Institution: Servicio de Hidrografía Naval
Address information: See List of Participants
URL: http://www.hidro.gov.ar
Your current job title: Head, Secretariat Oceanography Dept., contact to CEADO
Your educational background (degrees, previous jobs): Oceanographer
Since when are you holding your current job: 1990

Do you have any contacts with the data centre: Yes
More details: Both part of IMA; Responsibility for data management resides with the Information Technology Department.
3. DISCUSSIONS

The survey results clearly indicate a substantive lack of information management capacity in many of the ODINCARSA participating institutions. However, insufficient information was available from the participants to assess whether this problem was national rather than institutional. It was therefore recommended to carry out a more extensive survey at the national level in all ODINCARSA co-operating countries.

In order to discuss the essential elements to be addressed in the ODINCARSA MIM work plan four discussion sessions were held. For the first discussion session the group was divided in two. Both were requested to identify users, what services should be provided to the users, and how the information centre should provide the services. The second and third discussion session integrated the results of the two groups and identifies steps that should be taken to create and operate a marine information library/information centre:

Step 1: identify the users;
Step 2: identify the information needs of the users;
Step 3: identify information services that will respond to the needs.

Required services were defined as:
- Book loans
- Electronic catalogues
- Internet access
- Access to infobases (through the Internet or on CD-ROM)
- Inter Library Loan (ILL)
- Photocopying
- Information searching
- Portals
- Bibliographies
- Printed or e-bulletins
- User training
- Web site(s), brochures, bulletins

Step 4: identify elements to carry out the services:

- Information resources
  Books; journals; technical reports; printed or e-journals; infobases; catalogues; directories; audiovisual materials; co-operative exchange programmes,…
- Institutional support
  budget; strengthening links between information centre and data centre (NODC); strengthening links with decision makers
- Technology & know-how
  ICT; high bandwidth Internet access; efficient access to infobases; standard formats; efficient links between information centres (e.g.; IAMSLIC listserv); cataloguing and classification systems, thesauri, etc.; integrated library management system (ILMS); co-operative acquisition programmes; co-operative exchange programmes,…
- Human resources
  Information specialist; marine science specialist; computer specialist.
- Material resources
  Hardware; physical space; furniture, etc.
Subsequent discussions then brought together the results of all previous discussions into a table that described (i) service; (ii) local capacity required to provide the service; and (iii) ODINCARSA activity that will assist in the provision of the services.

4.12 BUDGET

It was decided not to attempt to draft a detailed budget due to the fact that insufficient information was available with regard to the available and required resources at the institutional and national level. It was noted that some information was already available from a survey carried out by Mrs. Guillermina Cosulich (INIDEP, Argentina) who surveyed 17 institutions in South America.

The Group was informed that the total budget available from the UNESCO Regular Programme for Ocean Services: IODE: Regions and TEMA for the year 2003 amounted to US$ 46,000. It was proposed that 50% of this amount should be allocated to ODINCARSA-MIM. It was proposed that the 2003 budget should include funding for (i) development and maintenance of the ODINCARSA web site (approx. US$ 6000); (ii) travel or co-ordinators and regional resource persons (US$ 5000); (iii) support to strengthen national capabilities (e.g.; software, Internet access…) (US$ 5000); and (iv) support to participate in IAMSLIC 2003 conference (US$ 7000).

However, it was pointed out that IODE-XVII (March 2003) may decide to allocate part of these funds to other regional activities. It was stressed that additional funding would have to be identified from other sources and that this would require the development of one or more project proposals.

In order to develop such proposals it was agreed that several steps would need to be taken during the next six months:

(i) carry out detailed survey on national marine information management capabilities and requirements (taking into consideration INIDEP survey);

(ii) joint drafting of relevant project proposals for the development and/or strengthening of national marine information management capability, with special attention to regional networking as agreed during the First ODINCARSA Training Course in Marine Information Management;

(iii) identification of donors (jointly by ODINCARSA national partners, IOC) with possible collaboration from IAMSLIC and other interested parties;

(iv) submit proposals to donors;

It was noted that, if possible, a first draft of the proposal(s) should be made available not later than 1 January 2003 for discussion (and approval) during IODE-XVII (Paris, 3-7 March 2003). This would then also enable the IOC Assembly to endorse the document(s).

5. ODINCARSA MIM CO-ORDINATION

It was noted that ODINCARSA is currently co-ordinated by Mr. Rodney Martinez (Ecuador). Mr. Martinez co-ordinates both the data and information components of ODINCARSA. The Group requested Mr. Martinez to continue the co-ordination of the marine information management component of ODINCARSA but also decided to nominate a MIM Regional Sub-Coordinator for the Caribbean islands. This was deemed necessary due to the fact that because of the small size of the concerned countries, the current ODINCARSA national co-ordinators are often unable to respond in a timely fashion to queries from the ODINCARSA Regional Co-ordinator. It was expected that a Sub-Coordinator for and from that region would be able to give the special attention needed.

The Group requested Mrs. Donna Spencer (Trinidad & Tobago) to undertake this task, which she accepted. The ODINCARSA-MIM Regional Co-ordinator for the Caribbean Islands will strive to increase participation of the Caribbean islands in the ODINCARSA project.

6. CHANGED ROLE OF THE LIBRARIAN

The Group stressed that there is a substantial lack of knowledge at almost all levels of institutional management about the changed role of the library and the librarian and their importance in the process of scientific research.

Until the ‘technological revolution’ started by the PC in the 1980s a library could be described as:

- A collection of books, journals and other printed material;
- Users search through card catalogue;
- Users make copies of papers;
- Users borrow books.

The librarian was a ‘technician’ in charge of indexing, cataloguing, acquiring, shelving and preserving documents’.

The technology at the disposal of the librarian consisted of:

- Card catalogue;
- Microfiche/microfilm;
- In some cases: mainframe/minicomputer for data entry and retrieval.
- card catalogue
- microfiche/microfilm
- in some cases : mainframe/minicomputer for data entry and retrieval
Today’s library can be described as follows

- A collection of books, journals, and other printed material + e-library: hybrid library;
- Users search electronic catalogue in the library or at user’s desk;
- Users find documents with MULTIPLE bibliographic tools;
- Users get documents through ILL or full-text online;
- Users access other ‘knowledge types’ such as news, events calendar, expert info, data, metadata…

The librarian has now become an ‘information specialist’ with a wide range of expertise.

The technology at the disposal of today’s librarian includes:

- Electronic Integrated Library Management system (catalogue, acquisitions, text retrieval, serials management, circulation, inter library loan…);
- Electronic bibliographic search tools (multiple platforms);
- Internet-based information retrieval (with extensive knowledge of multiple search logic);
- Internet-based document retrieval and management;
- Electronic document management (create, edit, scan, convert);
- Document recovery and preservation;
- Distributed database management (e.g.; Z39.50).

The new roles and responsibilities make today’s librarians ‘information experts who play an important role in research as aggregator of different knowledge types and guide to information’ and this should be reflected in the level of authority and impact on management.

It was further stated that today’s marine information management requires access to different types of expertise:

- Subject expertise (marine scientist);
- Information management expertise (library management professional)
- Information technology expertise (computer expert);
- Public Information Expertise (public information expert).

It is essential that this expertise is available at the institutional level and that the marine information library/information centre has access to all these expertise levels or, for larger institutions, has this expertise in its staff allocation.

7. TAKE-HOME CD-ROM

In order to enable the participants to review the course material used during this first session, a copy of the OceanTeacher CD-ROM was distributed. This CD also contained all course documentation, as well as PowerPoint presentations related to ODINCARSA but not included in OceanTeacher.
8. CLOSURE

The First ODINCARSA Training Course in Marine Information was closed on Friday 4 October 2002 by Dr. Adolfo Gracia, Director of the Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnología, U.N.A.M.

In his closing words, Mr. Peter Pissierssens expressed his sincere gratitude to the host institution, emphasizing that the Unidad Académica Mazatlán del Instituto de Ciencias del Mar y Limnología had contributed substantially to the successful implementation of the course by providing, free of charge, all equipment, as well as refreshments. He also expressed his gratitude to the institution’s technical team including Mr. German Ramírez, y María Clara Ramírez and commended the team for their expertise and efficient assistance throughout the week.

      Is the catalogue a database or word-processing file? WORD-PROC FILE /DATABASE
      If Word-processing file then describe:
      If Database:
        Commercial software? YES NO
        If yes, then specify:
        If yes, then what field formats do you use (e.g.; MARC, ASFA, custom format):
        If no:
        Describe the database system:
        What field format do you use (e.g.; MARC, ASFA, custom format)?
        What classification system do you use for your library holdings?
Library Management Systems
If your library uses a computerized catalogues system then do you use this system also to manage other parts of the library services (e.g., serials, acquisitions, ILL,...)? In other words does your library have an Integrated Library Management System (ILMS)? YES NO
If yes then:
If Commercial software, then specify:
If no then:
Describe:

Computer Infrastructure:
Do you have computer equipment in your library? YES NO
If yes then:
How many PCs do you have in the library?
How many are used for the management of the library?
How many are available to users?
Are the computers of your library networked (LAN)? YES NO
If yes, then are the library computers linked to an institutional LAN? YES NO
If yes, then do you have access to a server where you can store files? YES NO
Do your computer(s) have access to the Internet? YES NO
E-mail only or e-mail + WWW? e-mail only/e-mail + WWW

Library Holdings:
Number of Monographs (books, reports,...):
Number of serials:
Number of CURRENT journal subscriptions for which you pay:
Number of CURRENT journal subscriptions which you receive on an exchange basis:
If exchange, specify the journal/other publication that you provide:
Total shelf space in linear meters:

Library Networking
Is your Library part of a national library network? YES NO
If yes, then describe the network and what services you get from the network:
Is your Library part of an international library network? YES NO
If yes, then describe the network and what services you get from the network:
Is your Library (or yourself) a member of a professional librarian organization/society (e.g., IAMSLIC)? YES NO
If yes, then specify:

Linkage with data management
Is your library in the same institution as the ODINAFRICA data centre? YES NO
If yes, then do you have good contacts with the data centre? YES NO
More details:
If no, then how far is the data centre from your library?
Do you have any contacts with the data centre?
